

2012: July-August

AUGUST

 The image shows the cover of the August 2012 issue of Forbes magazine. It features a portrait of actress Sofia Vergara. The cover text includes 'CHINA'S STEVE JOBS • WHY THE WORLD WANTS AMERICA'S OIL', 'Forbes', 'SOFIA VERGARA TELEVISION'S BEST PAID ACTRESS', 'THE NEXT MEDIA JACKPOT', and 'MURDOCH, ZUCKERBERG AND DISNEY CLASH FOR CONTROL OF THE $1 TRILLION MEDIA BUSINESS'. A red starburst graphic on the right says 'REAL MONEY'.	Sofia Vergara's Rich Little Secret: A Multi Million Media Empire Meghan Casserly With little fanfare outside the insular Latino media community, Vergara and partner Luis Balaguer have shrewdly built up their company, Latin World Entertainment, from a Miami talent-management firm into a licensing, marketing, production and new-media powerhouse.
---	---

JULY

Why Should We Care About Media Literacy? July 29, 2012, Education Week

26 Here Come The Conventions (USA Today Teacher's Lounge)

 The image shows the cover of Newsweek magazine. It features a photograph of a person with their hands on their head, shouting or crying. The cover text includes 'Newsweek', 'iCRAZY', 'PANIC, DEPRESSION, PSYCHOSIS: HOW CONNECTION ADDICTION IS IMPAIRING OUR BRAINS', and 'THE DARK SIDE OF THE INTERNET'.	Newsweek Cover Story: Tweets, texts, emails, posts. New research says the Internet can make us lonely and depressed—and may even create more extreme forms of mental illness, Tony Dokoupil reports.
---	--

6 Part 3 of my interview with SLJ

	Teaching Critical Thinking Through Media Literacy
	By: Chris Sperry
	Viral News: Media Literacy for the 21st Century
	By: Michelle Klosterman, Troy Sadler, and Julie Brown

I was interviewed in Columbia \(SC\) Metro magazine about the NICK theatre's relocation and future plans.