

What's New in 2024

Like Media Literacy Clearinghouse on Facebook; Follow me on TWITTER, @fbaker, where I tweet about media, media literacy, and media issues

The past year has been filled with many personal appearances and book signings related to my new book: We Survived The Holocaust. There you can read reviews, testimonials and see a list of upcoming locations where we will be speaking and promoting the book. May

We revised this column: How To Watch A Presidential Debate.

I spoke to students about our graphic novel at White Knoll MS (West Columbia) and York Intermediate School (York SC).

We were honored to speak at Shaw Air Base during their Yom Hashoah event on May 6 where we presented a copy of our book to the Army's commanding general.

I was the keynote speaker on Yom HaShoah at the Savannah (GA) Education Association's annual event.

April

I spoke to the 8th grade classes, who are studying the Holocaust, at Whale Branch MS in Seabrook SC. The media department of the Beaufort County School District produced this video short of my visit and talk.

JewishBooksforKids published this interview with me about our book

March

I was interviewed about media literacy for this blogger.

5-7 I presented on media literacy and distributed copies of our book "We Survived The Holocaust" in the exhibit hall of the annual SCASL, school librarian's conference, held at the

Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center, Columbia SC

February

2-4 I attended, and presented at the SC Council of Teachers of English (SCCTE) annual conference on Kiawah Island, SC.

Our book, “We Survived The Holocaust”, was published in Spanish.

5,12,19,26 I presented a series of lectures on media literacy at the Lourie Center in Columbia SC

25 The Charleston Post and Courier published by response to a recent OpEd.

January

8-12 I conducted a week-long media literacy artist residency at Campobello Elementary School in Spartanburg County.